IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering on

man than the breaking up of the constitution

or leaving the body pale and weak or worn out and sometimes all yield to the destructive influence

The practice of Radical Cure has been the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little time is given to it, and because it is not known and charitable, those suffering from

it have little hope to be relieved if it is side of the radical cure. It was my hearty approval of the Radical Cure was given by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his book on the "Radical Cure."

1. January—Just born. Here's a dark! Papa does not seem very pleased, though.

2. February—Every night pa walks

about up and down the bedroom with me when I squeal. I always squeal I must do something.

3. March—Nurse is a spiteful thing

—she sticks pins into a fellow or purpose.

4. April—After all one may even weariness of the bottle.

5. May—I wish I could cut a tooth,

I'd be nurse.

6. June—What a nuisance it is to have relations who keep on saying

"Ketchetto, ketchetto," and dig in your ribs with their forefingers. When I grow up I'll do it to them, and see how they'll like it.

7. July—There are three babies next door got the measles. I get nothing

its awful dull.

8. August—One of the babies from next door came in to see us to day, and

I heard ma say "He hasn't got the measles now?" "No," said the babe's ma

There's a greedy sneak for you

left em at home.

9. September—Nurse drinks some thing out of a black bottle. I've caught her at it. It isn't the same that is in my bottle, either. If I were a bit big ger, I'd change 'em.

10. October—Blessed if this ain't a nee go, neither. Some one called to day to see ma and pa, and they said it was uncle and gave me to him to kiss.

He didn't kiss me, though, with what you might call a good will. Then they asked him again, and then they gave me to him to nurse, and he pinched me.

11. November—This is worse than ever. Why, here's another baby now,

and they say he belongs to our house,

and they're not going to send him away.

Don't even know how to feed him out of himself out of the bottle. Well, all

—never mind.

12. December—Got to sleep in the crib with him now! Want till he goes to sleep, I'll give him such a ones.

* * *

Here's a beast of a baby! He won't go to sleep, and not a soul in the crib can get a blessed wink—Judy's Almanac.

TWO IN ONE.

Two combined we have two great inventions in one each of which performs its action

in a different and distinct way.

It is so simple, in fact, in its action proprieties, that it is difficult to conceive of any other invention that would be more useful or more popular.

It is a great equalizer in this place.

A WASHINGTON letter describes the present financial and political status of some of the carpet bag ex-United States senators. Spencer, of Alabama, has been engaged in mining, and is said to have cleared half a million recently by the sale of a mine in Utah. Dorsey, of Arkansas, made a quarter of a million in Kansas Pacific stock. With this money he bought a cattle ranch in New Mexico of 86,000 acres. He is at the Hot Springs, fixing up the delegation to Chicago for Grant. Clayton of Arkansas, owns one of the largest cotton plantations in the state. Patterson, of South Carolina, is president of a horse railroad in Baltimore, and will soon be rich.

Sensible Remarks From a Judge.

Judge Pinckney, of the criminal court of Baltimore, delivered a very strong and sensible charge to a grand jury a few days ago. In the course of his remarks he said:

"It is not infrequent that a trial miscarries because of some flaw in the indictment, or a variance, as it is called, in the evidence which cannot be cured by an amendment. For this state of the law an excuse existed formerly in England, when there were more than 200 capital offenses, in the natural desire of judges and lawyers that as many persons as possible, whether innocent or guilty, should escape the outrageous cruelty of a verdict of guilty, which might consign to the gallows perhaps a mother who had stolen a penny's worth of bread to satisfy the hunger of a starving child. But all this is now changed, and instead of the fear of the innocent being convicted, the scandal of the law is that so many of the guilty escape punishment. The state's attorney, then, should be allowed by law to amend his indictment at the trial, (except, perhaps, in capital offenses,) according to proof in the cause, whenever an amendment would not prejudice the defendant in his defense on the merits. In that case the court might have power to discharge the jury without a verdict and to postpone the case."

MAINE'S SERIO-COMEDY.

Augusta Spectator to Boston Herald (Dec. 20.)

The playwrights are missing an opportunity. There is the material for a popular comedy in this city of Augusta. Let one scene second, should open in the dining room of the Augusta House, at the supper hour, when hungry Republicans and Fusionists sit down for their tea, toast, and gossip. A traveler from New Zealand would never imagine that the capital of Maine was the scene of a Mexican muss. The tables are filled with Fusionist officials and legislators, who elbow their Republican antagonists and get them to "pass the sugar." The much-arrested Major L'Homme eats his steak with the appetite of a man who never heard of drumhead courts martial and the ringing volley of a death fusilade. Fusionist Gov. Smith sits at the head of one of the tables, with his cheerful spouse and daughter, two persons who fully recognize his title as "Old Hickory himself." He smokes a "T. D" pipe, and has no sort of anxiety about coloring the lace curtains. He is as full of old Penobscot grit as Gov. Davis, and with a suit of armor, would pass for one of King John's Barons. Throughout the early part of the night the rival partisans play euchre, and a few wayward, wicked men indulge in 25 cents' worth of poker. The Maine law prevents anybody getting a glass of ne'er-quieting lager or honest ale, but there is a superabundance of "cool, refreshing gin," doctored brandy, and forty-rod whisky. Even the Sunday school men take something for their stomachaches. A scientific observer of this Maine muss ascribes it all to a too exclusive diet of ice-water and pie. A community so fed is certainly fit for treason, stratagems, and spoils. The Maine law, if repealed so far as malt liquors are concerned, and applied to pie and ice-water, would restore the stability of the Government. A sojourner among a mob who talk constitutional law and carry revolvers is dull enough.

Railroad Property Seized.

The Philadelphia and Reading railroad has been in the habit of issuing scrip to pay off its employees, instead of paying them lawful money. Each certificate was for $10, bearing a certain rate of interest. Under the internal law there is a tax of ten per cent. on all issues of this class, and the collector at Philadelphia demanded $168,000, ten per cent upon the scrip issued, which amounted to $1,168,000. The company refused to pay, and the collector seized twenty-two locomotives which were in the round house, at Philadelphia. The only way for the company to get their engines is to pay the amount, as under the law no suit for restraining the assessment or collection of tax can be maintained in any court. It is said nearly $5,000,000 in scrip has been issued, and the government expect to collect half a million dollars for it. The Reading company will probably become convinced, after a time, that it will be better for them to pay their men in legal money of the country than in scrip, which the men have to get discounted.

DENIS KEARNEY calls Jay Gould a grasping, blood sucking monopolist, but did Kearney ever send $5,000 to help the poor in the South, and $5,000 more to help the poor in the West? The more of a monopolist a man is in good works the better, and in this thing Gould, who gives thousands, is a long way ahead of Kearney, who never donated a cent to anyone but Kearney.

THEY LIE DOWN,

And Give Up the Ghost,

And the Maine Fusionists Will Probably Meet No More.

Grant Goes to a Circus, Like the True American He Is.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 28.—The Capital Guards and Richards' Light Infantry marched out of the State House at 9 o'clock this morning.

The Fusion Legislature met in Union Hall. Reporters were excluded. The House immediately took a recess till 4 o'clock. The general impression of the Fusion members is to go into the State House Legislature. It is expected that the Fusion concern will disolve.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 28.—In the House, Mr. Hill, of Corinth, and Milliken, of Burnham, Fusionists, took their seats

PORLTAND, Jan. 28.—The New Era, the Greenback organ, submits to the decision of the Supreme Court, and appeals to the people, also calls upon the press to publish the declaration of the principles of the "Brick Pomeroy Leagues."

Some Fusionists claim that it is the honest purpose and intention of their Legislature to meet in August, and that they will enter upon a heavy campaign for the next election and endeavor to have two returns of the Congressional vote, one to be sent to them and another to the Legislature as recognized by the courts; and that they will make up a case to Congress concerning the election. A number of Fusionists say that the Fusion Legislature will never meet again, as it will be shown to morrow by members taking their seats in the regular Legislature, and that the course pursued was an indirect method of dissolving. If members go home they will soon be returned by their constituents to look out for the important interests coming before the Legislature this session. The Fusionists will declare vacant all seats that are not now filled and new elections will be ordered.

The Fusion Legislature, after a prolonged secret session this afternoon, adjourned to meet on the first Wednesday in August next. Many of the members will go home not to return here before that date. Others will go back to the people of their districts to abide by their decision as to joining or remaining out of the State House or Legislature. Others will take their seats among their Republican brethren. The counted in members will, some of them, go home, while others will contest the seats of their rivals of the Capitol for the sake of getting the pay usually voted to defeated contestants. Two Fusionists today appeared in the Republican House, and numerous others have expressed their intention to follow them. The Fusionist Governor, Smith, and Talbot, Speaker of the Fusion House, will leave for their homes to-morrow.
